Need Stimulus? "Silver Cumulus-Stimulus" Holiday Comedy Social Is For You

They say 'every cloud has a silver lining', so it certainly must be true, if they say it. We often hear of economic stimulus, and now the chamber has come up with our own version for this year's event.

The Holiday Comedy Social is the best bet in town for affordable networking and socializing. On December 4th, at 5:30, the 'social' begins and attendees will enjoy a very full evening.

Greeted by live DJ, Perry Johnson from Echo Entertainment, members and their spouses or significant others will be able to dance, dine, bid, win, enjoy refreshments, socialize and network, too.

Sponsorships are available at this, one of the major fundraisers of the Carol Stream Chamber of Commerce.

Silent Auction items are being gathered and readied for bidding. Some of our members find some of their best holiday shopping can be done at this social!

No formal dress attire is required, but if you want to be theme-rich, silver is the word. Live comedy by professional comedian Sonya White will complete this night, full of entertainment!

This year, the committee has come up with the "Basket of Delights." Raffle tickets, purchased for $10, or 3 for $25, attendees or even those not able to attend, have a chance to win a mountain of certificates and gifts worth over $800! From dinner, to golf, hotel stays, and more, this basket will be a focal point of this silvery evening.

Reservations should be made before December 2nd and the cost for members is $20 or $25 for their guests. Each member business qualifies for at least two 'members', or more, as their level of chamber membership applies (1-2 employees, 3-10 employees, etc.)

Don't miss the fun as Chamber members gather to celebrate the holiday season. And what a shiny, silver, celebration it will be!

Luanne Triolo 630.665.3325

Dear Chamber Members,

Is 2010 a new decade or just a New Year? Whatever you decide, I hope you’ll decide to make 2010 a great one. What will you do with your 52 weeks - your 365 days - 8766 hours? Is it just me or do the days, weeks and months fly by faster than they used to? We cannot get back yesterday or a great day we had last year; we can just make the most of today...and tomorrow.

How will you make the most of this year when it comes to business? Will you vow to be more organized, spend more time with family, improve follow up on leads, seize opportunities you have otherwise taken a pass on?

Realizing the economic situation affects most of us, how do you view chamber membership? Do you look at the luncheons as the most efficient 1.5 hours you can spend per month? Do you check out the chamber advertising and sponsorships and consider them when planning your year? Are you taking full advantage of the free online resources and free Business After Hours and Ribbon Cuttings?

What will 2010 bring? Speaking for the Carol Stream Chamber, I can tell you it brings some new and unique opportunities. Watch for Member Benefits such as the new Mobile Alerts, a Leads Group beginning, a Candidates’ Night and a ‘meeting’ to help introduce you to ‘power partners’ and beneficial connections. We continue our Chamber Video Opportunity, New/Prospective Member gatherings and multiple Expos, so that you can have the chance to meet others, learn from others, and build your business through others.

Have a wonderful Holiday Season, new decade...or not!

Five Star Business Expo Opportunity in February

Each year, the Carol Stream Chamber, along with four other chambers, participates in a business-to-business Expo. This year will be the 14th year for the annual Five Star Business Expo and it will be held on Friday, February 19th, 2010.

Members of the five chambers—which include Addison, Bartlett, Bloomingdale, Carol Stream, and Glendale Heights—have the chance to network and share information about their products and services as an Exhibitor at this event. It is the perfect opportunity for businesses, who: design, produce, manufacture, distribute or sell products and services, to get maximum exposure to other companies.

The standard booth fee is $225 and it includes a 'draped/clothed/ table. Electricity and oversized booths are available for an extra fee.

Sponsors at the Expo will benefit from exposure both in print and on the web. "Expo Sponsors" receive electricity, signage, prime location of their booth as well as being featured on the www.FiveStarExpo.com website, in the program and in ads. Those who want to kick it up a notch can be the ultimate — the "Super Star Sponsors" of the Expo and they receive all the above benefits PLUS being able to choose their booth location, a 60 second commercial on local cable as well as additional signage at the entry to the event.

Held at Hilton/Indian Lakes Resorts, there will be a capacity of 120 booths. If you figure five chambers of commerce fitting into just 120 spots, that means early sign-up is advantageous. But there is another reason to sign up early — those with paid registrations before December 31st will go into a drawing for a FREE booth — i.e. a REBATE of your standard booth space, a $225 value.

There will be 10 Food Sponsors at the Five Star from the restaurants within the five chambers. If you are a restaurant who is interested, contact us today, as these spaces go quickly. Attendees, as well as exhibitors, always find the complimentary food at the Expo to be delicious! It's definitely one of the 'draws' to visit.

If you would like to be a sponsor, a Food sponsor or an exhibitor, and you have misplaced the registration form mailed out, you can find another on our website or on FiveStarExpo.com. Expo hours on February 19th are 9:00am to 3:00pm and there will be an After Hours directly following, from 3:30-5:30pm.

SNIPPETS... ..

With the upcoming Holidays, comes shopping for gifts, party and dinner needs, overnight accommodations for guests, etc. Remember to turn to the chamber website to search for members who can fulfill your business and personal needs for such items and services. SHOP THE CHAMBER!! The chamber is a partner with the Village of Carol Stream and the US Census Bureau on getting out the word about the 2010 Census. See the enclosed flyer regarding the census. For more information on employment with the Census for the 2010 Count, visit www.census.gov/2010censusjobs and click on Regional Office Link. Applications can be downloaded from the following web site address www.census.gov/rochi/www/employ.html If you need address labels to reach fellow members with holiday offers or holiday wishes, contact the chamber office. We can print labels for $35 for you to send your Season's Greetings. Happy Holidays!!

Use Social Media to Create Clients for Life

By Brian Tomkins

Social media has become the buzz at business conferences across the country in 2009. Twitter, Facebook, YouTube, and Blogs are the best known forms of social media today.

Although some of these tools have been around for several years, business owners now realize that they may be the best way to promote their business on a tight budget. Most business owners see social media as an inexpensive way to advertise but, it's also an inexpensive way to build lasting relationships with your customers.

A strong client for life program is one of the most important pieces of any marketing strategy. Most companies spend most of their marketing budget on advertising to new customers, but finding new customers can be difficult and expensive. It's always easier to farm than it is to hunt.

Traditional client for life programs include regular mailings, holiday cards and sometimes a calendar with your picture. These mailings are basically stay-in-touch tactics. The goal is to be the first person or company that customers or referral partners think of when they need your product or service.

In the last 10 years, companies have added e-mails to their client for life programs, which can be less expensive than mailings. All of these traditional techniques have been effective in the past, but social media has opened the door to new possibilities and higher customer expectations.

People don't like being talked to and they dislike being marketed to even more. A good friend is a friend who listens. A good business is a business that listens.

Web sites such as Facebook and Twitter open the lines of communication between a business and its customers. The companies that have found early success in social media have learned to actively engage their customers and most importantly, listen.

The first step to a successful, social media-driven, client for life program is to listen. The more you know about your customers, the better you can serve them. Companies used to spend thousands of dollars for the market research social media can provide for free. If you want to learn more about your customers, look and listen as they give you access to their lives. They will share their likes and dislikes.

Most importantly, they will share their successes and challenges. Twitter offers tools for you to listen to when people are talking about your specific product or service.

The next step is to stay in touch. Facebook allows you to see pictures posted by your customers. These pictures could be of a newborn child, an anniversary celebration or a graduation. All of these are excellent opportunities for you to offer congratulations. Referral partners may also share their successes and challenges.

This is another great opportunity for you to offer your congratulations or support. The posting of helpful articles and links is easy to do with social media and can provide additional value. Every time you post something, your picture or logo accompanies your post.

Finally, the most important step in a successful, social media-driven, client for life program is to build relationships through communication. We prefer to visit a restaurant where the owner comes out to greet us personally and asks if everything was OK.

Two-way communication will be appreciated by your customers more than any other gesture. If they have questions or concerns, your response and interaction will help build strong personal relationships. We have often heard that customers will buy from people they "know, like, and trust." While that is true to the sales process, it is even more important to the client for life process.

Customers remain loyal to companies that listen and address their personal concerns. They will always feel connected to a business owner that they feel they can talk to. If the success of your business is based on the relationship you have with your customers, then it is important to make building and maintaining these relationships a priority.

How do you know if you are using tools like Facebook and Twitter effectively? Look at your Facebook wall. Do you see comments on your posts? On Twitter, how often do people re-tweet your tweets? Are your updates one-way communications or are you actively engaging your followers?

Conservation Tips For Your Business

by Kay McKeen/SCARCE

Here are a few tips to help your business conserve energy and save money at the same time.

Ecofont ~ Ecofont is a computer font designed with small invisible holes in the text, which uses 20% less ink than standard font. To download Ecofont for free go to www.ecofont.co.uk

Turn off office equipment ~ Turning off your office equipment at night can significantly reduce energy costs in your office or business. Turning off your computer can save you $30 a day, $42 a day for turning off your monitor, $30 for your laser printer, $18 for your fax machine, $53 for a small office copier, and $144 for a large office copier. That is a total saving of about $317.

Blackel ~ Blackel is a website run by Google, which aims to save energy by displaying a black background and font color for each search result. The concept behind Blackel is that computer monitors can be made to consume less energy by displaying darker colors. Go to www.blackel.com for your next internet search.

Tank Toilets ~ One in five tank toilets leak. If your business has tank toilets in their restrooms you can purchase a toilet leak dye kit. Remove tank cover drop one of the dye tablets into the tanks wait several minutes if dye appears in the toilet bowl you have a leak. Fixing the leak could save 100gal. of water a day.

Recycling ~ Recycling just 4 lbs a week adds up to 208 lbs. a year, which can save 260 lbs. of CO² a year.

Composting ~ Organic waste currently represents 1/3 of the trash brought to Illinois landfills. Composting your food scraps, coffee grounds, tea bags and other organic matter can drastically reduce the amount of trash that goes to a landfill. On January 1, 2010 Senate Bill 99 will go into effect, which allows commercial composting. Contact your waste hauler to see about getting your compost bin.

Kay McKeen is the Founder and Executive Director of SCARCE who challenges businesses to go even greener in 2010. A great resource, SCARCE can be contacted @ (630) 545-9710 or www.s-c-a-r-c-e.org

“Turning off your office equipment at night can significantly reduce energy costs in your office or business.”

High-Tech Community Map in the Works

The Chamber is once again partnering with Village Profile to produce a community map. Letters will be going out to members with info on this high-tech project. With links on the internet to your website, all of this publication can be downloaded FREE to laptops, desktops, PDAs, web-enabled cell phones, smartphones and most other wireless devices. If you would like to be a part of this valuable marketing tool, please call our rep, Dan Greenhouse/Village Profile, at 800.600.0134 x201.

Chamber Luncheon/RSVP Policy - The Luncheon/RSVP Policy began July 11, 2008 and requires attendees to pre-register for all chamber luncheons, regular monthly luncheons as well as Women In Business luncheons. When you pre-register, we are better able to plan with the restaurants we are dealing with for the right amount of meals. Pre-registration (RSVP) must be done 3 business days prior (Friday noon for a Wednesday luncheon) and walk-ins will not be able to be accommodated. Some luncheons require earlier response. Cost for member lunch will be $25 and non-members are $30 pre-paid. Cancellation and no-shows will be charged $25. Payment will be expected in advance or at the door; no invoicing available. We do appreciate your consideration and cooperation on this policy. Please call Luanne Triolo if you have any further questions on this matter (630) 665-3325.

From pink flowers to pink ribbons, this year's "What Women Want" Expo had a definite color theme!

With a portion of the proceeds donated to the American Cancer Society, the event brought women from businesses and the community. Attendees were given a pink cloth bag upon arrival and were pampered with body massage, nail polishing, hand/arm massage, and chocolates here and there. Doctors were on hand to talk to those who had questions, and there were many opportunities to SHOP. Giveaways were abundant as 40 exhibitors represented their businesses with a caring and nurturing spirit. We thank those who exhibited, sponsored, donated, attended, and volunteered to make this 3rd annual Women's Expo a huge hit.

Shop Carol Stream this Holiday Season & Save Money $$$$

Carol Stream Shoppers unite for the hard working local businesses that are located in our proud community. When considering where to spend your hard-earned money this holiday season, consider the following truths about shopping in your own community:

* If 50% of the U.S. population spent $50 each month in independently-owned small businesses, their purchases would generate $42.6 billion dollars in revenue according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

* For every $100 spent in independently-owned stores and small businesses, $68 returns to the community through taxes, employee wages, and other expenditures. Consequently, a $100 purchase in a national chain nets the community on average $43 and if spent on-line the net gain to the local economy is $0

* Pick 3 local small businesses to patronize this holiday season spending $50 in each to support the local economy.
